

Tokarchuk Anna

Manual QA Tester

I am a novice tester with an interest in web testing and knowledge in the field of mobile applications. My work is always focused on quality and attention to detail, and I strive to ensure seamless product functionality and create user-friendly interfaces. My experience in modeling demonstrates my ability to adapt to changing project conditions, as well as my commitment to precision and meeting deadlines. Effective communication is a cornerstone of my professionalism, and I am ready for continuous growth and development. My mixed career in modeling and software testing makes me a unique professional, capable of adapting to new challenges and opportunities, transcending conventional professional boundaries

Work History

Professional Model

2014 - 2023

I participated in clothing catalog photo shoots, collaborating with global brands and online stores, showcasing real individuals wearing the clothes.

I also contributed to video advertising, including the Basmati rice commercial shot in India. Additionally, I took part in cosmetic shoots and the Cappy juice advertising shoot in Istanbul, highlighting the product's use in everyday life.

My work extended to Ukraine, where I collaborated with online catalog websites, and I gained experience in Israel, working on video advertising for brands like Vardinon and Carasso.

Public Presence:

My photos graced billboards in Kiev and Odessa, and my work was published in American magazines, expanding my portfolio. In summary, my modeling experience spans catalog shoots, advertising, and publications in diverse locations, including Ukraine, Israel, Istanbul, and India."

Interests

My interests are diverse. I find inspiration in travel, immersing myself in different cultures, and experiencing nature's beauty. I'm passionate about creating deep house music, shared on SoundCloud as Anna Tor. Visual aesthetics, from fashion to interior design, always inspire me. I enjoy capturing memorable moments on my phone. Psychology fascinates me as I delve into the human psyche. Meeting new people grants fresh perspectives. I'm dedicated to continuous learning and growth, whether mastering languages, embracing technology, or exploring new frontiers.
