

Tokarchuk Anna

Manual QA Tester

I am a novice tester with an interest in web testing and knowledge in the field of mobile applications. A commitment to quality and attention to detail are my key traits in my work. I always strive to ensure seamless product functionality and contribute to creating reliable and user-friendly interfaces. Crafting a harmonious fusion of technical prowess in software testing and a seasoned trajectory within the modeling industry, my resume encapsulates a dynamic blend of expertise and creative engagement. With an established proficiency in meticulous software testing, I embody a commitment to precision, an unwavering dedication to meeting deadlines, and an innate aptitude for fluidly adapting to evolving project dynamics.

My journey within the modeling landscape has underscored my tenacity in adhering to punctuality and navigating diverse challenges with finesse. Proficiency in effective communication serves as a cornerstone in fostering seamless teamwork, while my continuous pursuit of growth empowers me to confidently explore new horizons, including the realm of software testing.

Every modeling venture I've embarked upon has not only showcased my creative prowess in unraveling intricate challenges but has also cultivated my agility in responding to dynamic contexts. This repository of experiences instills unwavering conviction in transcending conventional professional confines.

Merging my extensive modeling background with my comprehensive mastery of software testing bestows me with a unique versatility, positioning me to adeptly embrace novel opportunities and forthcoming imperatives.

Contact

Email

ania300303@gmail.com

Address

Israel, Tel Aviv

Education

Functional Software Testing

2023

Online Course "Artsiom Rusau QA Life"

National University of Food Technologies

Master

2012-2018

Software

- Git
- Jira
- MySQL
- Charles
- GitHub
- YouTrack
- Postman
- User Flows
- Process Flows
- Chrome DevTools
- SoapUI
- Android Studio
- Qase
- Fiddler

Language

English

Russian

Romanian

Ukrainian

Work History

Professional Model

2014 - 2023

Participated in catalog photo shoots for various types of clothing, collaborating with online stores and catalogs. Worked with both mass-market brands and well-known global labels. The primary goal was to showcase how the clothes look on real individuals.

Engaged in video advertising projects, including the Basmati rice commercial and other videos. Contributed to creating a vivid representation of the product and conveying its distinctive features on screen.

Took part in photo shoots for cosmetics, as well as in shoots for Cappy juice advertising in Istanbul, showcasing products in everyday life.

In Ukraine, collaborated with catalog websites, demonstrating various clothing styles. My photographs adorned the pages of online stores.

Additionally, gained experience in different locations, including Israel, where I participated in video advertising for the Vardinon and Carasso brands, striving to capture the brand's essence and unique characteristics.

Public Presence:

My photos were featured on billboards in Kiev and Odessa, adding to the urban atmosphere.

My works have been published in American magazines, aiding in spreading my portfolio.

In summary, my experience in the modeling industry encompasses diverse projects, from catalog shoots to advertising campaigns and publications, with work conducted in various places.

Interests

My interests span across various realms. Traveling and immersing myself in different cultures serve as my inspiration. Nature consistently evokes both awe and tranquility within me. I derive pleasure from creating deep house music and sharing my mixes on SoundCloud under the pseudonym Anna Tor. Visual aesthetics play a pivotal role in my life – be it in clothing style or interior design, it never fails to inspire me. I relish capturing moments that could transform into unforgettable snapshots, preserving them on my phone. Psychology isn't merely captivating reading material for me; it's also an enthralling journey into the realm of human psyche. Engaging with people and acquainting myself with new individuals grant me fresh insights and perspectives on the world. I always strive for learning and growth, whether it's mastering languages, embracing new technologies, or delving into uncharted territories.